Drive To Push Japs From Rich Indies

NEW YORK—Soundphoto—From two sides the Allies close in on Singapore and the final stages of the campaign to drive the Japs from the rich Indies gets well underway with the invasion of Borneo (1). At Rangoon (2) a new British army has been formed to drive down the Malay Peninsula and Singapore (3) at the tip. As map shows, the Aussies invasion is aimed at moving from Brunei, already taken, toward Kuching and the new airfields on Borneo can soon be turned against the Indo-China coast.

MAINE IN WASHINGTON

(From the Office of Owen Brewster, U. S. S.)

The past week has been meat, fish and potato week in the nation's Capital. All three of these items are of vital importance to Maine and New England and all three of these items are receiving the attention of the Maine Delegation and members of Congress from other sections of the country.

Additional Meat for Summer Resort Areas

Members of the Maine Delegation for the past ten days have been flooded with telegrams asking relief from a new amended order by the OPA fixing a new base period for allocations of meat. The base period takes months of January, February and March in the year 1914 upon which to base allocations for the summer months and the balance of the year. OPA claims that the winter months taken represent the last period of normal supply of which there have record. Unfortunately, allocations over this base period not only make it impossible for summer hotels and summer camps to obtain any meat but it also prevents returning sons and daughters from sharing meat allocations while home on business or vacation. The Maine Delegation and other Senators and Representatives were unable to get any satisfactory reply from the OPA which claimed that it had made its decision and will stand by it.

Senator Walsh of Massachusetts and Senator Brewster of Maine together with Congressman Fournier of Rhode Island, Mrs. Smith of Maine and Mrs. Woodhouse of Connecticut, joined in a call for a meeting of all Senators and Representatives in summer resort areas to meet at the Capitol for the purpose of discussing the situation with the OPA and pressing for action.

Sixteen states were represented at the meeting which laid before the OPA the seriousness of the condition existing in the respective areas. OPA seemed unable to give exact causes of the situation and why it had taken action interpreted by the Senators and Congressmen present as unfair in a distribution upon winter resort areas and abnormally low winter rations in northern summer resort areas. In order to enable OPA to assemble more facts and give more definite advice regarding definite relief, the meeting was adjourned until the week following at which time definite announcement will probably be made regarding one of the most critical situations ever to confront a Maine summer season.

Fish to Have Its Inning

When it became evident that the conference on the OPA Extension Bill had agreed to place agricultural products and livestock under the final authority of the new Secretary of Agriculture, an effort was made to have fish and fish products, together with shellfish, given the same advantages extended to agriculture and livestock.

The conferees, however, were more concerned to get the conference report agreed upon and were also reluctant to enlarge the scope of the House and Senate considerations and, therefore, the movement failed.

When this became known, Senator Brewster introduced a bill amending the OPA Extension Act declaring that for the purposes of the act as amended by the conference, fish and some foods should be considered as agricultural products. The fish industry which has been steadily depressed throughout the war as regard to price. This was true in the sardine fight which has just ended in a mild and partial victory for the sardine operators. OPA has made its decision and, as a result, the fish industry has not been given a fair price by OPA as guaranteed by OPA legislation.

A companion bill has been introduced in the House by Congressman Fournier. Both these bills will go before the Banking and Currency Committee and both Committees have promised prompt action. The fish industry throughout the country is manifesting a vigorous registration of interest in Washington and this is particularly true with the Maine sardine industry. Rockland in Maine and Boston and Gloucester in Massachusetts. One of the most interesting facts concerning the introduction of this bill is that the amendment was introduced several hours before the conference report on the bill was received and voted upon.

Potatoes Again

A committee print of a proposed bill to make potatoes a basic commodity has been issued by the Senate Committee on Agriculture at

Auto Tires Up 18% This Month

Maine's share in the nation's increased allotment of motor vehicle tires for July is an increase of slightly more than 18 percent above the quota for June, according to Thomas E. Jordan, Associate Millage Rationing Officer for Maine OPA.

There still will not be enough new passenger tires for allocation to "A" gas ration holders, Jordan said, and these will be distributed among "B" and "C" drivers on the same basis of essentiality as in the past.

Maine's allotment of new passenger car tires for July is 10,369; representing an increase of 2,161; small truck tires, 324, increase 360; 3.25 or larger truck tires 908, increase 192; small tractor 296, decrease 67; large tractor 181, increase 14.

Penalty For Failure To Have Federal Car Stamp

The new $5.00 Automobile Use Tax stamp is required by law, to be prominently displayed on every motor vehicle which is used on the highways on and after July 1, 1945.

The stamps are on sale at all post offices in the office of The Internal Revenue Collector at Augusta. In addition, The Collector of Internal Revenue will fill mail orders when accompanied by cash, money orders or certified checks. Personal checks cannot be accepted for the purchase of revenue stamps.

The law requires that the stamp be prominently displayed on the motor vehicle on and after July 1, 1945, on the upper part of the windshield behind the rear view mirror. Motorists will find that the stamps usually will stick better if they dampen the windshield instead of the stamp. They should avoid repeated dampening of the stamp. Motorists who desire to do so may reinforce the stamp with adhesive tape or similar aids.

To protect themselves against loss or theft, Collector Clauson advised motorists to keep a separate record of the serial number which appears on each stamp. They are also asked to write on the back of the stamp, the make, model, serial number, and State license number of the vehicle. Both cash and jail penalties for failure to pay this tax are provided by law.

The committee on local aviation facilities was authorized to add two more members of its own selection. The August meeting will be preceded by a box supper at the camp of the president, William Chapman, at Sonoma.

EXTEND SLAUGHTERERS REGISTRATION TO OCT. 14

The deadline for farm slaughterers to register their establishments with local War Price and Rationing Boards under the livestock slaughter control program has been changed from July 1, 1945 to October 14, 1945. The Maine OPA announced today.

This extension of the filing deadline will permit registration by farmers who do not have a slaughterer until the fall, OPA said.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

The way I figure, this new 5 buck windshield sticker, it is maybe a good idea. You know, it all taxes were paid via sticker, it might work out skunking. Let every public project be paid for by sticker, say as a sample, the Govt. thinks it must have OWI to pass out news or hold back some, that it thinks are too young to understand, and it is going to cost 25 million a year, we could have a 2 dollar OWI stamp for same—there being some thing like 15 million cars in the U. S. A.

And there are these River and Tann "Antiques" like the Missouri Valley one to cost around 100 million. A windshield sticker for this MVA would be a 22 dollar baby. And with stamps for all projects everybody would see what they were all about, and what it was costing them versus everybody thinking it was something for Uncle Samuel to pay for, and not them.

We could have 10 cent stickers for the local playground and leapfrog projects and work on up to the 25 buck sticker for bigger things like AAA, etc. And when the windshield was plastered and would hold no more, we could relax and know the worst was over—until next year.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA

LOOKING AHEAD

by GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Stearns, Arkansas

Pay-Cut

Last year at this time I enjoyed the acquaintance of a business man whose salary was $50,000 a year. I looked upon him with a great deal of admiration and respect for several reasons. He earned what he has with hard work and know-how. His employees, numbering above ten thousand, call him Uncle Frank. He lives in a small town and helps a lot of people in a quiet way. Last week somebody showed me a page of a pocket-size magazine published for the employees of his company and I read with grave interest that his pay had been cut. That was news by anybody's standard; most people are getting raises in pay these days. What's more, this man's pay-cut is big. It amounts to more in a year than most men manage to accumulate in a whole lifetime.

His Own Words

"I insisted that the board of directors reduce my annual salary from $50,000 to one dollar," the signed statement said, "I have not been receiving net anywhere near $50,000 a year for working. . . . Only $300.36 was left for my use out of my 1944 wages. . . . Why should I permit the company to pay out $50,000 a year to benefit me by only $300.36?"

Let me make haste to say that I am not sorry for Uncle Frank. He will be all right; he has some other money. I am not worried about his employees either. The faithful workers among them will be able to retire in dignified comfort. My only concern is over men who, next year or the next, may hunt jobs and not find them; jobs Uncle Frank would like to offer but can't.

Inside Figures

Here is another enlightening passage from his statement: "Perhaps you wonder why my net realization from wages has been so small. The answer lies in the extremely high income tax rates which apply to my wages, added as they are to my other income, and to the fact that I must pay not only federal income taxes but also state income taxes."

This man is not the only big-company official in the country who has out a lordly income to less than 10 cents a month. Why do they do it? Because their big salaries benefit them so little and cost their firms so much. My young friend who started last fall to work his way through college, running a steam dishwasher four hours a day, realized more net from his salary than this $50,000 executive.

Who Is Injured?

Men who cut off big salaries have other income. That's why their tax rates are so high. That's why they can afford to spurn a salary. But if they must decline the proceeds of their own invested earnings, one thing is sure: They will not invest further earnings to start new ventures or expand old ones. Investments in business are not safe, never have been. Any investment is a risk.

Men with money invest it only when they believe, to the best of their judgment, that it will pay reasonable returns. Now they are sure of only one thing: Nearly everything an investment earns will be taxed away from them. Will they invest in new enterprises? No. Then where will our returning service men find work? Unless present tax laws are changed soon, they will find it on a huge W. P. A. to the disgrace of our free America.

ADS SAVE YOU MONEY!

How would you like to be the only buyer of the automobile you like?

Well, you might be, if it were not for advertising. And your car might cost you $40,000 instead of $1,000.

The maker of your car uses advertising to drum up a lot of buyers, which enables him to go into large scale production and reduce his selling price. Robert M. Bowes, maker of tire repair supplies, sparkplugs, etc., backed racing cars as a hobby. One day a driver brought in a bill for $842 for a new crankshaft. Mr. Bowes told him he had just bought a whole new De Soto for $800!

If you want just one crankshaft it could cost $842. But advertising and large-scale manufacture give you a WHOLE CAR for about the same money.

Question—Did Christ's incarnation annul His divinity?

ANSWER—"And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory." 1 Timothy 3:16.

Q.—Do you understand the pre-existence of Christ before He was born in Bethlehem?

A.—No; but I believe it, because of such Bible passages as John 1:1-3; "And now, O Father, glorify Thou Me with Thine own self with the glory which I had with Thee before the world was."

Q.—Is it true that in the Bible "days" sometimes stand for "years"?

A.—Yes. In Ezekiel 4:6 it is written, "I have appointed thee each day for a year." This use of days to represent years is found in the symbolic prophecies of the Bible.

Q.—How could people be saved a thousand years before Christ's time when they did not have the gospel?

A.—In Galatians 3:8 we read: "And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed." According to the chronology in most Bibles, Abraham lived over 1800 years before Christ was born.

Q.—Since there was no law before it was given on Mount Sinai, how could God hold people guilty of sin?

A.—According to the words of the apostle Paul in Romans 4:15, "where no law is, there is no transgression." But sin was imputed before the written law was given on Mount Sinai (Genesis 4:7; 13:13; 18:20; Numbers 16:38), which proves the existence of law at that time.

Q.—Didn't Christ say that the generation living in His day would not pass away before all His predictions would be fulfilled?

A.—The reference is doubtless to Matthew 24:34: "Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled." Is it not the generation that sees the signs mentioned in the preceding verses? After recounting these signs in order, the Saviour says: "So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors." Verse 33.

"The war isn't over for me till the Japs are licked and the boys come home. As long as they are overseas I'm doing my part to get the supplies to them."

One reason the pulpwood shortage is still so acute is that the supply problem is far more difficult in the Pacific than in Europe. Supplies have to be double and even triple wrapped for the long haul. Pulpwood is now one of our most serious war material shortages and is on the War Production Urgency List.

By cutting pulpwood, farmers are helping shorten the war; giving themselves another source of cash income; and helping themselves raise and market their other crops, since one of the largest uses of paper and paperboard is in packing agricultural products and materials.

THE WAR FOR PEACE

J. E. Jones

For the past two months all the skirmishes for peace have occupied the full attention of delegates of 50 United Nations. When President Truman rung down the curtain it was upon a victory that was even more important than the landing of Allied troops upon the Normandy beach. It took a remarkably short time for the American Army to capture Paris. Hitler said at that time Germany would win the war. He guessed wrong!

Now Hirohito talks moonshine about what the Japanese are going to do in the Pacific. This Washington Correspondent is not a prophet or the son of a prophet. But write it down on a piece of paper; Japan will be completely licked before snow flies in New England.

There was an armistice that unfortunately destroyed plans for peace after World War I. The present European War was wisely finished with "unconditional surrender." There can be nothing less than unconditional surrender by Japan. There has not been, and there cannot be any dicker with our defeated enemies because we learned from experience what must be done. The United Nations at Dumbarton Oaks and San Francisco have laid solid foundation for permanent peace.

Senator Willis, Republican of Indiana, made a statement a few days ago that seems to cover the situation when he said he had "no illusion" that the San Francisco Charter is a full preventive of war but it offers the only available medium to reconcile differences in a peaceful way.

The United States is going to stand by its bargains with Great Britain, Russia, France, China, and large and small nations. Perhaps the rest of the World will do the same, as they are likely as tired of war as is the United States.

The bride is a graduate of Woodstock High School. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Felt. He is also a graduate of Woodstock High School.

Mr. Felt is engaged in farming. They will live at Bryant Pond.

NEWRY CORNER
MRS. GRACE ARSENAULT
Mrs. Grace Arsenault passed away at her home at Newry Corner June 28, at 2:10 a. m. following a long period of failing health, and her death removed a most esteemed resident from this town.

Born in Newry June 25, 1882, the younger daughter of the late Harvey and Frances Smith Hastings, her entire life was spent in her home town. On Jan. 31, 1918, she married Mark Arsenault, who survives besides several cousins.

Mrs. Arsenault will be keenly missed in both the home and community, she being one who was always willing to lend a helping hand whatever the situation. Her great determination to brave her long, painful illness and her cheerful disposition were true characteristics of her entire life.

THE AMERICAN WAY

ALL NOT SO ROSY
IN RED RUSSIA

By George Peck

You have a friend or acquaintance who constantly is painting a beautiful word picture of communism, socialism or planned economy—one who perhaps sounds mighty convincing as he points with pride to the Utopian conditions under which the Russians lived prior to the war?

If you have, there are a few facts in this article that you can pass on to him the next time he is commiserating about the sad plight of American workers and expounding upon the virtues of the Russian system. In doing so, you will not be discrediting the war effort of our Russian ally. No one can deny the staunch courage of the Russian people, nor fail to applaud Russia's gallant and magnificent stand against Germany.

But what are we discrediting here is economic systems. If the Russians like their system, that is strictly their business. We Americans—there is most of us—like our system, and that's our business. At least we have the right, however, to make a comparison of our American system with others, not with any idea of selling it to, or placing it upon any other nation but simply to demonstrate its overwhelming superiority.

But to get down to cases. The November, 1939 issue of the Monthly Labor Review, published by the Department of Labor of the United States Government, knocked into a cocked-hat any idea that the Soviet Union at that time was a mecca of happy, well-paid, well-fed workers. That booklet showed that the average monthly wage in Russia during 1939 was 287 rubles.

Putting a very optimistic exchange value on the Russian ruble, at that time, it was worth 8 cents in American money. Which means that the Russian worker's per capita income was approximately $23 per month.

Now when you confront your communist friend with this figure which to put it mildly is a very pitiful wage, he will try to brush it aside with the argument that the cost of living in Russia was much lower than in America. But you can utterly confound him by referring again to the same government booklet. It shows that in July of 1939, just a few weeks before the outbreak of war, a suit of clothes of common quality cost the Russian worker $36, or over one and a half month's work; an overcoat of common quality $34.50; and a pair of leather shoes $14, or over two week's work.

Butter sold in Russia in July of 1939 at 76¢ per pound; coffee at 31.75¢ per pound; granulated sugar at 13.5¢ per pound; and fresh milk at 15¢ per quart.

But that is not the worst of it. The prices quoted were those that prevailed in Moscow, the capital of the Soviet Union. Prices in that city were lower than in other Russian cities, because it was better supplied with foodstuffs and consumer goods. Also, transportation costs, which are rather high in Russia, owing to insufficiency of facilities, made for higher prices outside of Moscow.

But, your collectivist friend will say that the Russian system was new; it hadn't had sufficient time to work its potential miracles. Well, the communists had been in the saddle for almost 23 years. Their record of accomplishment on behalf of the workers is not one of which to be proud—starvation, disease and almost prohibitive prices for the bare necessities of life.

Certainly the United States is not going to discard its marvelous system of Free Enterprise, which has done so much for the American worker, to take on communism or any other of those foreign systems which have kept the workers in poverty and a condition bordering close to slavery. The evidence seems to show that all was not so in Russia prior to the war—not even pink.

"WHO'S OUT OF STEP"

Kind of looks like the Central Maine Power Company is out of step—so far as rising prices are concerned! Why? Because new, lowered CMP rates will reduce the monthly bills of most of our farms and residential customers—yes, anywhere from $1.20 to $3 per year!

Of course, we remark modestly, that may not appear to be a large reduction... but it's a real saving! It means, too, that you can use more electricity per month without an increase in your bill!

THIS IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THE NEW CMP LOWERED RATES

Rates After April 16
1st 25 KWH ..... 7c KWH
Next 40 KWH ..... 5c KWH
ALL KWH over 65 ..... 2c KWH
If you have an approved storage type water heater, you continue to get 1c KWH electricity for all over 200 KWH's monthly.
